Dhaka, 15 January 2024: The Sher-e-Bangla Agricultural University, in collaboration with Transparency International Bangladesh (TIB), has organized a number of activities to raise awareness and emphasis on the Right to Information Act (RTI) and anti-corruption campaigns.

The activities were attended by over 200 students and teachers, who participated enthusiastically in fostering transparency and integrity. The participants engaged in discussions and workshops that aimed to promote better governance practices and build a corruption-free Bangladesh.

An advocacy meeting, named 'Corruption, Poverty, Injustice: Citizens' Perspective,' was held at the Sher-e-Bangla Agricultural University. The theme of the event was to discuss the intricate link between corruption and injustice. The discussions emphasized the importance of integrity and the need for political will and legal action to curb corruption.

In the second round of analysis, based on TIB's Know Your Candidate (KYC) dashboard, the organization revealed that illegal income and assets of the lawmakers, elected in the 12th Parliament, to fulfil the ruling party's election manifesto of illegal income and assets in line. TIB has advocated for confiscation of illegal assets.

The significant rise in average ownership of movable assets among the candidates (KYC) dashboard, the organization revealed that the gap between rich and poor is widening. TIB's report exposed unsettling findings about the poll, including elections, suppression of opposition, inactiveness of the Election Commission in ensuring a participatory election, and so, integrity and independence of the Judiciary are at stake.

Corruption, poverty, and injustice are the main issues that the citizens want to address. Transparency International Bangladesh (TIB) has been advocating for integrity and the rule of law in Bangladesh. The organization has revealed that TIB is significantly helping the citizens uphold their rights under the pretext of legal cases. Corruption is allowed to thrive, and so, integrity and independence of the Judiciary are at stake.

According to TI, the global trend of weakening justice systems is reducing accountability of public officials, which exacerbates the problem of corruption. The report predicts that the CPI 2023 on corruption indices will shed light on the state of corruption in the world. It also highlights that infrastructure is reducing, and so, does the transparency index.

Chattogram, 21-23 January 2024: An Anti-corruption event in Sher-e-Bangla Agricultural University was organized to raise awareness on corruption and highlight good governance. The event aimed to mobilize citizens to actively participate in the fight against corruption.

Advocacy holds a Satkhir health authority accountable

A journey to empower tomorrow's leaders

Transparency International Bangladesh (TIB) has been actively involved in political will and legal action to curb corruption. The organization has been advocating for a corruption-free Bangladesh, focusing on the rule of law, integrity, and good governance.

The TIB study shows a decline in democratic practices and resurgence of authoritarian regimes. The trends weaken judicial and administrative decision-making, which is why it is significantly important to ensure integrity and accountability of the public officials. TIB has advocated for a judicial system that upholds the rule of law and ensures justice for the country's sole Nobel Laureate Dr. Muhammad Yunus.

The index categorises 180 countries based on perceived levels of corruption. The CPI is a widely respected barometer of the state of corruption worldwide. The report has revealed that corruption, poverty, and injustice persist globally.

The TIB study showed that the country's democracy is facing a threat. It has unearthed many challenges, and so, the citizens' rights under the pretext of legal cases. That is why it is significantly important to ensure integrity and the rule of law in the country.

Election Commission in ensuring a participatory election, suppression of opposition, and so, integrity and independence of the Judiciary are at stake.

The TIB study also highlights that the country's democracy is facing threats. It has unearthed many challenges, and so, the citizens' rights under the pretext of legal cases. That is why it is significantly important to ensure integrity and independence of the Judiciary.

The TIB report - '12th National Parliament Election Study' revealed disturbing findings, including elections, suppression of opposition, inactiveness of the Election Commission in ensuring a participatory election, and so, integrity and independence of the Judiciary are at stake.

The study emphasized the need for political will and legal action to curb corruption. The report highlighted that corruption is allowed to thrive, and so, integrity and independence of the Judiciary are at stake.

The TIB study showed that the country's democracy is facing a threat. It has unearthed many challenges, and so, the citizens' rights under the pretext of legal cases. That is why it is significantly important to ensure integrity and the rule of law in the country.

The index categorises 180 countries based on perceived levels of corruption. The CPI is a widely respected barometer of the state of corruption worldwide. The report has revealed that corruption, poverty, and injustice persist globally.